"Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Dá?a ?everová was born in Slovakia where she spent the first thirty years of her life. She studied mathematics and biology and was working as a math and biology teacher in the School for Gifted Children in Bratislava. After her son was born she moved with her family to Geneva, where she soon started creating her first origami models. She has been folding and teaching her models ever since. She was invited to several international origami convention where she gave many workshops and talks. As a former teacher she is also very interested in using origami in teaching, she participated in several Didactic conferences of paperfolding. She also loves to play with different materials and combining them into jewelry."
