"Pressestimmen 'This eyeopening book makes us question what we really mean when we say we love animals. Anyone who has ever loved a dog or a cat or a hamster or a bird will find abundant food for thought here.' John Robbins, author of Diet for a New America, The Food Revolution, and Healthy at 100--Reviews'A thoughtful book full of substance and style. It should be required reading for anyone interested in what we eat and why.' Kathy Freston, author of the New York Times bestselling Veganist and Quantum Wellness--Reviews'An absorbing examination of why humans feel affection and compassion for certain animals but are callous to the suffering of others.' Publishers Weekly--Reviews'An altogether remarkable book that could transform the way society feels about eating animals.' Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson, author of The Face on Your Plate--Reviews'One of the most thoughtprovoking books in decades. The realization that we've been conditioned throughout our entire lives to think and act a certain way toward animals, and that we've been so disconnected from ourselves and our fellow beings, gives us a chance to make our choices freely.' Heather Mills--Reviews Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Melanie Joy, Ph.D. is a social psychologist, professor, and author. She teaches psychology and sociology at the University of Massachusetts, Boston and is the leading researcher on carnism, the ideology of meat production and consumption. She is the author of Strategic Action for Animals: A Handbook on Strategic Movement Building, Organizing, and Activism for Animal Liberation. Dr. Joy can be found online at www.melaniejoy.org. John Robbins is the author of the bestselling The Food Revolution, Diet for a New America, and No Happy Cows. His life and work have been featured on PBS."
