« Ceci n'est pas un livre. C'est un monument sur papier, le livre le plus mégalomane de l'histoire de la civilisation, la chose la plus grosse, la plus lourde et la plus éclatante jamais publiée la dernière victoire d'Ali. » Der Spiegel, Allemagne Muhammad Ali est l'une des personnalités les plus remarquables de notre temps, et le plus grand sportif qu'ait porté la Terre. Pour honorer cette légende vivante, TASCHEN a créé un ouvrage à la démesure de l'homme lui-même. Après quatre années de travail, ce livre est la somme la plus complète jamais publiée sur Ali, avec un poids de 34 kilos, des dimensions de 50 x 50 cm et 792 pages rassemblant de nombreux textes (certains célèbres, d'autres inédits) et photos. La majeure partie des documents présentés dans ce livre n'ont jamais été publiés, et pour couronner le tout, le projet a bénéficié de la participation de Muhammad Ali en personne, ainsi que du cercle de ses intimes les plus proches : ses managers, ses amis, sa famille et ses enfants, ses conseillers spirituels et autres, ses opposants et ses ex-femmes, ses associés, les essayistes et les journalistes dont il a été le plus proche. Sous-jacente à l'ensemble de ce projet est enracinée la conviction qu'Ali n'est pas seulement une grande figure du passé, mais l'une de celles dont l'influence perdure dans la culture populaire de nos jours également. Un simple regard sur le monde des sports et de la musique suffit à montrer que son ADN psychique a laissé sa marque partout, du rap à la façon dont se présentent les personnalités du sport et du divertissement. Et si vous pensez que son influence est un peu moindre par rapport à ce qu'elle était voilà trois décennies, demandez simplement à Bono, Madonna, P Diddy, Will Smith, David Beckham ou les stars Williams. Pas un aspect de l'homme n'a été laissé de côté dans ce monumental ouvrage, qui contient des contributions de plus de 100 écrivains et photographes, et plus de 3 000 photos de la vie d'Ali. Et comme si cela ne suffisait pas, le livre comporte également les propres écrits, illustrations, affiches, billets etc. d'Ali et de ses mémorables combats. Par ailleurs, des créations spécifiques commandées à des artistes comme Jeff Koons ancrent la mythologie d'Ali dans le XXI^e siècle et dans un contexte résolument contemporain. GOAT sera disponible en deux versions : la « Champ's Edition », limitée aux 1 000 premiers exemplaires et comprenant un multiple original de Jeff Koons ainsi que 4 tirages de Howard L. Bingham, signés du photographe et d'Ali lui-même. Les 9 000 exemplaires suivants ont un contenu identique (à l'exception du multiple et des photos signées) et comportent une photo-litho de la pièce de Koons. Chacun des 10 000 exemplaires est signé de Muhammad Ali et de Jeff Koons. Mais pourquoi un tel investissement (plus de 10 millions d'euros) pour un projet sur Ali, surtout lorsqu'on a déjà lu les livres, vu les films, regardé les grands documentaires et été quelque peu familiarisé avec son histoire après toutes ces années ? Benedikt Taschen dit : « Nous voulions casser la logique de la biographie conventionnelle. Dans ce livre, nous sommes partis de la photographie, mais jusque dans le détail des légendes accompagnant ces photos, nous conduisons le lecteur vers l'histoire écrite et les textes. Il en résulte une narration structurée qui est comme le scénario le plus richement détaillé que vous pourriez imaginer. Vous pourriez tirer un film directement du livre. Et ainsi le résultat est une expérience qui fonctionne sur divers niveaux, tout dépend de votre humeur, de votre sensibilité, et du temps dont vous disposez pour tester les richesses de cet incroyable monument ». GOAT est limité à 10 000 exemplaires numérotés individuellement. Chacun a été signé à la main par Muhammad Ali et Jeff Koons entre 2001 et l'été 2002. 792 pages couleur et noir et blanc, incluant 2 séquences dépliantes et des doubles pages métallisé or pour séparer chaque chapitre. Contenu éditorial : 3000 photos et illustrations, de presque 100 photographes et artistes. Contributions écrites de plus de 100 écrivains. Sections biographique, historique et chronologique extensives en complément des 8 chapitres principaux. Format XXL Les dimensions sont de 50 x 50 cm. GOAT pèse 34 kgs Présentation : Chaque copie est présentée dans un coffret recouvert de soie et reproduisant la célèbre photo de « Ali vs Williams » de Neil Leifer en 1966, récemment déclarée « Plus grande image sportive de tous les temps » (Observer, Londres). Le livre est doré sur tranche. L'intérieur du coffret représente le fameux dessin de « Float Like a Butterfly », reproduit en or sur papier de soie. Le dos et le logo de couverture GOAT sont en cuir rose métallisé, inspiré de la couleur de la Cadillac rose d'Ali, son premier achat significatif lorsqu'il est devenu boxeur professionnel. Jeff Koons a créé un multiple original disponible avec les 1000 premières copies. Les 1000 premières copies sont aussi fournies avec 4 tirages gélatine signées par Ali et le photographe, Howard L. Bingham. Prix : Les 1000 premières copies (« Champ's edition ») sont au prix de 7 500 €. Une photo-litho est fournie avec les 9 000 autres exemplaires (3 000 €). Spécifications techniques d'impression : Impression 8 couleurs sur papier Galaxi Ceramic 200 gsm semi-mat par Zanders, avec vernis brillant sur toutes les images. Imprimé par LEVA Arti Grafiche et Mek Grafiche, Italie. Relié par Legatoria Editoriale Modernia, Italie. Reproduction : Toutes les illustrations couleur sont imprimées couleur par couleur et reproduites en utilisant la technique de reproduction la plus fine disponible actuellement, qui fournit une intensité et une gamme chromatiques inégalées. Les illustrations en bichromie sont réalisées avec un traitement spécial pour les images noir et blanc qui permet une densité et une échelle tonale de grande qualité. Typographie : HouseGothic and Sabon..
