"Pressestimmen 'I thoroughly enjoyed reading this manuscript and I feel so proud that I am a part of the Aboriginal people in our country ... The more I read your books, the more I want to thank you both for the research you carried out ...The Original ancients through his research, were the first human sapiens sapiens is mind boggling ... Anyway thank you for letting me read it.' -- Associate Professor Rosemary Van Den Berg 'Original people of Australia, since the arrival of the Europeans, have been thought of as a backward primitive culture, long forgotten by the passage of time. They did not live in cities or build stone monuments - the true sign of a civilized society. Steven and Evan Strong in their eye-opening book, Between A Rock And A Hard Place, bring new light to this first culture. They expose secrets that have long been suppressed regarding this mysterious indigenous nation and bring forward a controversial, yet thrilling new look at the progression of civilization on the Earth.' -- Rita Louise, PhD 'When I first uncovered the lost Slater documents from Brunswick Valley's Historical Society's museum in Mullumbimby, I was astounded that such a momentous discovery had lain dormant nigh over 70 years. A little searching brought me to Steven and Evan Strong. Having seen their proven dedication and painstaking work in recovering the true lost history of Australia, I knew that I had found the rightful people to hand over the bright torch of truth ... 'Between a Rock and a Hard Place' is the brilliant outcome. It is filled with insights of the first people ... It is a testament to good archaeology and scientific accuracy. I am certain in this volume the Strong's have not only produced the most concise and accurate history of the mounds, they themselves have made history. They have brought us one step closer to understanding the origins of humanity.' -- Richard Patterson (historian & author) 'Wow what an amazing testimony. Such an absorbing blend of historical, geological and archaeological evidence supported by Original spirituality and knowledge! ... Your examination of the anomalies within conventional history are certainly compelling, and your passion for knowledge and truth is extremely contagious!!! ... Thank you also for the honour of reading your book before publication, I am very humble.' -- Belinda Rich (BA Archaeology/ Palaeoanthropology & MA History) 'Evan and Steve take the reader through a learned dissection of factual evidence which has proved all too inconvenient for the establishment as they continue to pretend it is not there ... Between this and the preceding research it is clear that the weight of validation can only build and build ... A big well done for this valuable addition.' -- Richard Gabriel & Judith Ann (Authors & researchers) 'Between the Rock and the hard spot there is an explosive amount of information that absolutely blows holes in the Out of Africa theory...' -- Bob Newton (Author, Researcher and USOKS Founder) 'A Fascinating and well researched piece of work. My admiration and respect to all involved.' Annie Newton (Co-Founder of USOKS, Author/independent researcher) 'This book is very well written and as riveting as 'Shunned' Cecilia Hall (Researcher USOKS) Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Steven Strong is a secondary school teacher with a background in Archaeology and Education.
